

Pin the LastPass Extension in Firefox

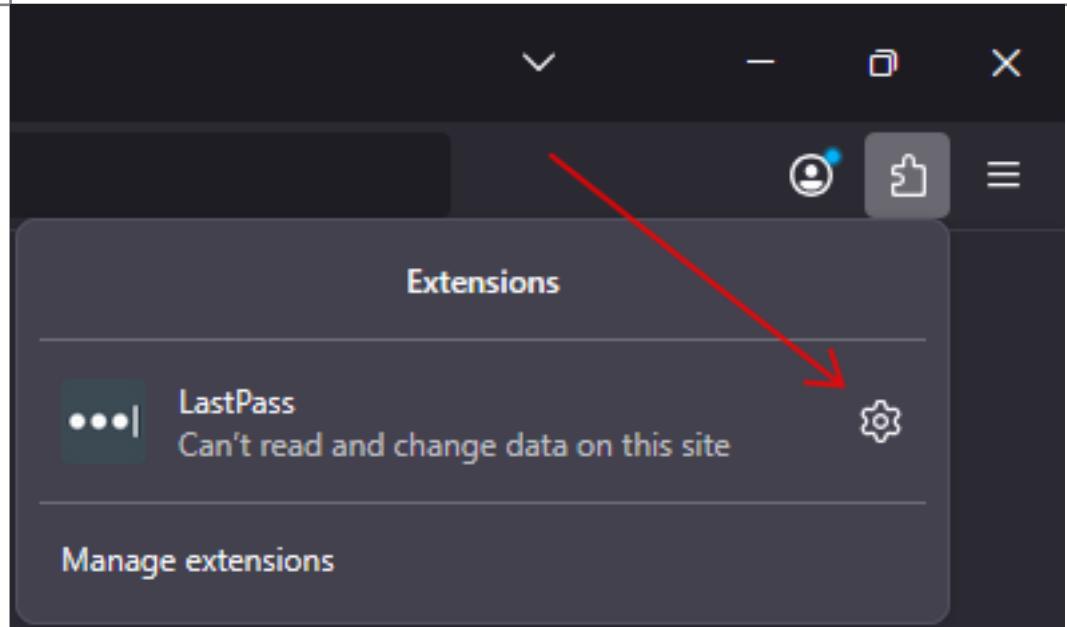

Note: These steps apply after you have installed the LastPass password manager extension in Firefox.

Step #	Task	Screenshot
1	Open Firefox. In the upper right-hand corner click on the puzzle piece icon.	 A screenshot of the Firefox toolbar. The LastPass extension icon (a puzzle piece) is visible in the upper right corner. The address bar below it contains the text "with Google or enter address".
2	If you just installed LastPass, you can leave a check in the box labeled “Pin extension to toolbar” and click “OK”.

If you installed LastPass and do not see this pop up continue to the next step. Otherwise proceed to step 5.

3 Click the gear icon next to the LastPass entry in the list.

4 Click "Pin to Toolbar" in the drop down menu.

5 The icon will appear in the upper right-hand corner of Firefox.

Click the LastPass icon.

6 Choose whether to allow data collection and then click

“Accept”.

Strictly necessary data collection

Customer account data: Your email is needed to validate, create, and update your account. We also collect your email to provide you with notifications for the purpose of providing, operating, and supporting the service, as well as for security and security monitoring. You may also choose to provide identifiers such as your phone number or device ID to help maintain and support your account.

Customer content: Usernames, passwords, secure notes, website addresses, and other sensitive data that you store in LastPass. We also collect data that we maintain on your behalf, as well as any other information you provide to us. All of this data is encrypted using our zero-knowledge security model.

Without this permission, the LastPass extension will be uninstalled and you will not be able to use it.

Voluntary data collection

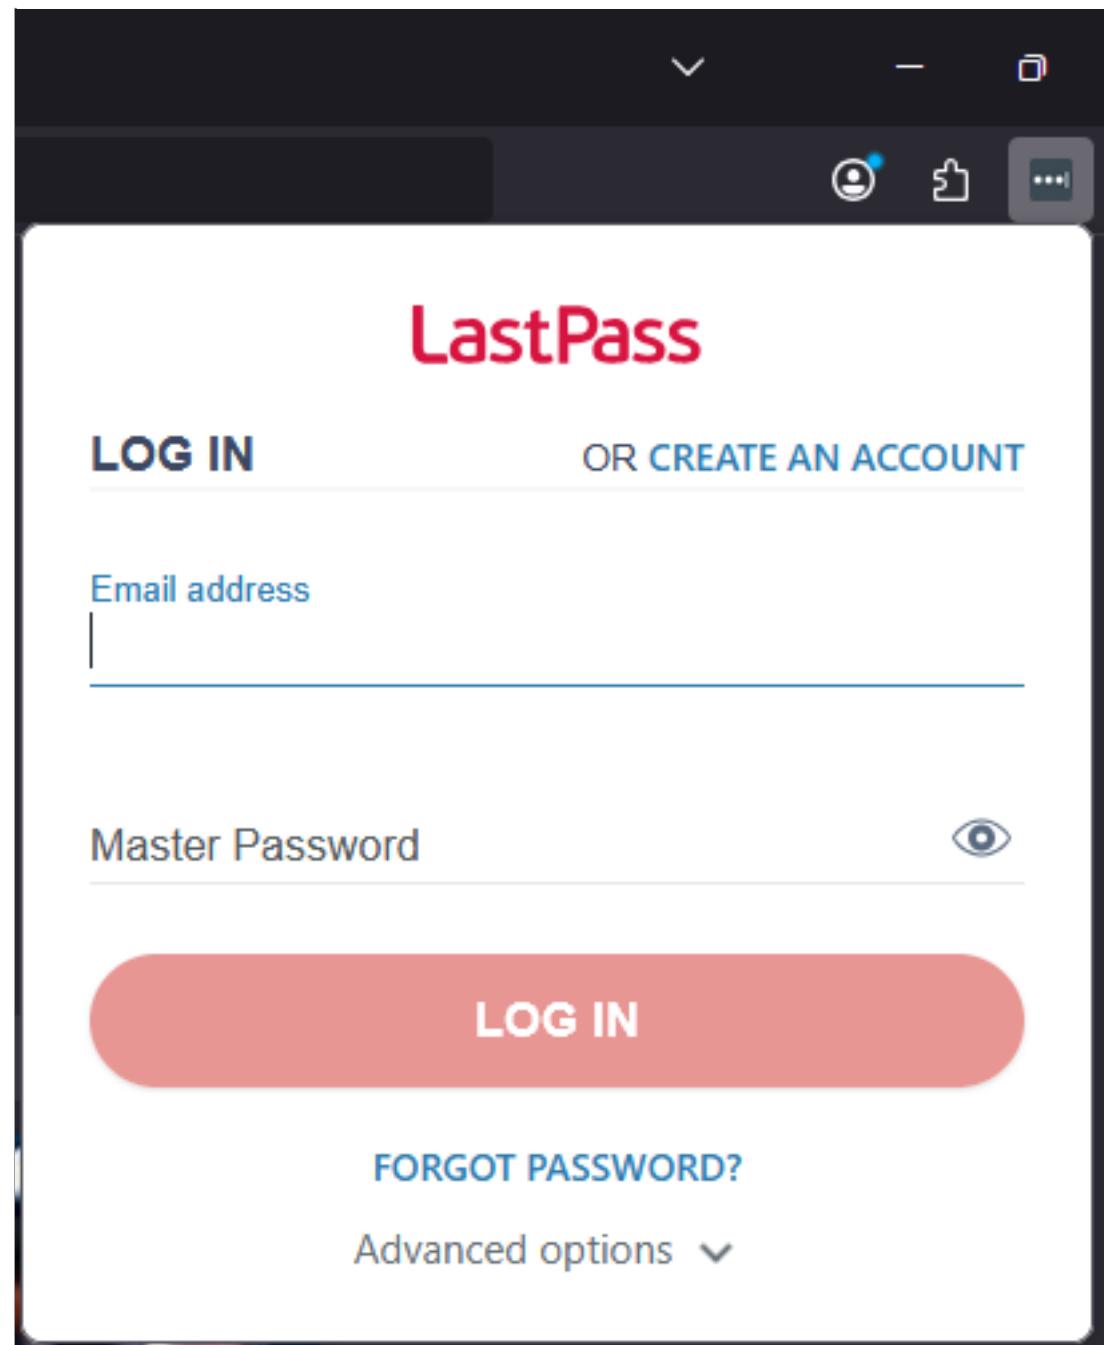

We collect data about how you use the LastPass extension (this may include browser usage, system performance data, and system logs), as well as system information (such as operating system, browser, and device type), and system settings (such as language, location, and privacy settings). We also collect data about your usage of the LastPass extension (such as crash, and bug reporting data). We utilize this data to operate, support, and improve the LastPass extension, and to provide you with the best possible save and fill experience.

Opting out of the voluntary data collection doesn't affect the LastPass extension's functionality.

For more information about our commitment to privacy and security, please visit our Privacy Center.
