Maximum Profile size exceeded

When working in the hosted network you may expierence a problem with your profile size. It will pop up a window upon login and logoff warning you that you have exceeded the maximum amount of space for you profile, and that any changes being made will not be saved. On the Hosted Network profiles are given a 25mb quota on the server. Another thing to look for are the archive folders for outlook, if a user sets up archiving it creates the file in the wrong location. Correct the path, and make sure all big files are saved somewhere else other than the Desktop or Documents folder.
